

DADGBE, 4/4 TIME

I THINK I UNDERSTAND

JONI MITCHELL

INTRO:

VERSE:

Daylight falls upon the path
 Now the way leads to the hills
 Sometimes voices in the night

the forest falls
 above the steeple's
 will call me back

behind _____
 chime _____
 again _____

To-day I am not prey to dark un-
 Be-low me sleepy roof tops round the har-
 Back along the path way of a trou- bled

certainty _____
 bour _____
 mind _____

The shadow trembles in its wrath
 It's there I'll take my thirsty fill
 When forests rise to block the light

I've robbed its blackness of friendship over
 that keeps a traveler

blind _____
 wine _____
 sane _____

and tasted sunlight
 from getting fear but I'll challenge them with

as my fear came
 never disre-
 flashes from a

clear to me _____ garding her _____
 brighter time _____

CHORUS:

I think I under-stand ———

Fear

is like a wilderland ———

stepping

stones ——— or sinking sands ———
