Harlem In Havana

I was playing around with the sounds on my VG-8 and I'm pretty sure the basic patch for this song is the Crystal patch (PA82), tuned as above. It also sounds very good with other guitar sounds.

I think the song sounds right in this tuning. It may or may not have been Joni's tuning, but it's possible to reproduce all of the chords and bass lines of the song (except for the special effects) with this one. I hope you like it!

Fret positions are in relation to the capo.
