

NEARING SELL-OUT—The concert by popular singing star Joni Mitchell, still almost four weeks away in Duke's Cameron Indoor Stadium on Saturday night, Feb. 7, has attracted so much attention that the Duke Union Major Attractions Committee says a sell-out performance is assured. Students and other Mitchell fans at both UNC and Duke and elsewhere in the Triangle have made runs on ticket booths on campus and in area Record Bars despite the fact that little has appeared in print on the singer and her accompanying group, the L. A. Express, which also backs her in her latest, and fourth gold album, "The Hissing of Summer Lawns."
